

Join our shed today

At the Men's Shed, there is always someone willing to have a cup of tea and a chat. We come from a variety of backgrounds and have a diverse range of skills which we're happy to share with you.

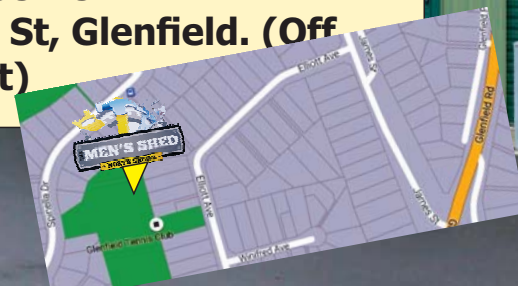

Use our facilities to work on your own project or help someone else with theirs. There's always plenty going on, with projects for schools, kindergartens, local community boards and private individuals.

We rely on support from sponsors and we also charge a small annual membership fee.

Join us to meet new friends, support The Men's Shed and your local community.

What is the Men's Shed?

From humble beginnings in Australia as a health initiative for men, the Men's Shed now has over 100 locations in New Zealand, offering blokes of all ages a place to socialise and tinker.

Why was the Men's Shed created?

Men's social and support networks often revolve around their place of work. When they change roles or retire, they often lose touch with their contacts and become isolated. This can lead to a range of health issues. The Men's Shed grew from the desire to provide men with a place where they could forge friendships, share their experience, learn new skills, and become part of a strong and diverse community.

What benefits does the Men's Shed offer?

Our purpose-built shed has a well-equipped woodworking facility, an excellent engineering workshop, and a small but growing electronics area which are all at your disposal for your personal projects and for community projects.

More importantly the shed offers comradeship, friendship and a community of skilled people willing to share their experience and talents. You could learn a new skill.

Easy to find.

We're easy to find, situated on a flat easy-access site beside the Glenfield Tennis Club, with plenty of parking out front.
