Latest build project

The Shed was approached to build this stylish hall table. Member Chris stood up to the plate to create something special. Precision and care has been taken throughout, with the customer saying she was "absolutely delighted" with the end result.

We agree.

First Storywalk for Kaipara

The grand opening of Kaipara's first StoryWalk was a special occasion. Seventeen story boards run through the Pou Tu o Te Rangi Harding Park in Dargaville. The result is a fun, interactive activity that turns a book into a walk through the natural world.

The Shed team were happy to meet the challenge of producing the high-quality durable bases using their CNC router.

We look forward to an explosion of story sharing across the nation.

Rotary Sailing Club

The Mangawhai Rotary Learn to Sail Project has been a rowlocking success. It helps local youth to develop competency and safety on the water through sailing. They approached the Shed team to build a sturdy trailer box to store their equipment.

Support for other community groups is what the Shed does best. A solid utilitarian design built with our love at the cost of the materials only.

We wish all our young seafarers fair winds and following seas.

New Products

The latest release of our Shed Catalogue now includes a couple of new products that we welcome your feedback on.

A Wētā Motel is a specially designed, enclosed habitat for our native wētā. These structures include a latched door and a Perspex window, allowing children, young and old, to observe these unique critters without disturbing them. They are useful in determining the effectiveness of your pest control measures, a great learning opportunity for children and the wider community to connect with nature. $45

Our Cat box is ready for discussion and we welcome your feedback. It can be supplied ready assembled or as a 'kitset'.

Please let us know what you think; drop into the Shed any Wednesday or Thursday between 9am and midday or flick us an email

The blanket is for illustration only.

Car Stickers

We are giving away these little beauties free of charge.

These vinyl sticker will look great in your car and help raise awareness of the Shed in our community.
